2021 OPW Retail Fueling Price Increase

Dear Valued Distributor:

As previously communicated on November 1st, effective December 1, 2021, OPW Retail Fueling will implement a price increase to recover ongoing cost increases in raw materials, transportation, and other related cost pressures. The price impact varies across products to reflect specific cost escalations associated with each product.

Please note, between now and December 1st, OPW will be limiting large stocking orders to not exceed an average one month of sales per distributor. Please contact your OPW District Manager for that amount.
