OPW Online Training!

Dear Distributor or Contractor:

At OPW, we value product training and even in these difficult times, we are committed to your equipment knowledge and expertise installing our products. If your technicians, installers or salespeople need training during the COVID-19 pandemic, we are here for you in a variety of ways.

Online training

OPW is currently offering Enhanced Vapor Recovery training via our online learning and certification portal for both UST and AST systems. Normally, we would reserve online training for recertification; however, in this crisis, we have opened up our free initial certification training until the end of the summer for EVR courses.

If your installers need Flexworks training (piping & containment), then we can also offer you a live webinar hosted by your OPW District Manager. If you don't have your DM's contact information, then please just contact us at training@opwglobal.com.

In-person training

We understand that not all live training can be substituted with an online course, so we remain committed to offer live Loop installation courses on site, using our network of District Managers. All we ask is that you follow the same health & safety procedures as we do so that we will all stay healthy.

- Your trainees should have face masks and wear them any time a distance closer than 6 feet is necessary. Most sites are fairly loud, so the chances are that you'll need to be closer than 6 feet from the trainer, so please wear masks.
- Your trainees should take their temperature before coming to the site. Anyone with a temperature greater than 100.4 degrees should not be on site.
- We will be asking each participant how they feel as well. If anyone has been around someone who has tested positive, they should not be on site, even if they feel fine.
- Other than masks, normal fueling site PPE should be worn:
 - Hardhat
 - Reflective vest, coat or shirt
 - Approved eyewear
 - Safety shoes/boots
 - ...and any other requirements that the site may have

If you have any questions regarding these training opportunities or PPE requirements for live training, please contact me at training@opwglobal.com.
